

Week ending 13th February 2009:

The Three Little Pigs theme has been followed up this week.

Story times came alive with the puppets! The wolf was very scary.

Children made houses of straw, sticks and bricks.

There has been a lot of free play and good use of story telling language from the children using the masks from the staff pantomime.

We have also watched colours mix together and talk about what happened. In green room there was a lot of colour sorting.

Next week is half term.

Don't forget our Holiday Club.

This little boy used a classroom as a pirate ship and made himself a hook and sword - he became Captain Hook!
